Local news is very scarce, and the scissors and paste are doing good work.

Hay is selling in Eureka for $20 per ton. Last year at this time it was $40 per ton.

The proposed changes in the time table prove to be merely newspaper rumors.

Mr. G. C. Thaxter, and daughter, Miss Birtie, returned from S. F. yesterday morning.

Trees are budding and blossoming all over town, and the leaves ought to show up pretty quick.

Matt Brannan is matched to fight Mike Sullivan to a finish in Genoa May 9th, with five men on a side, for $500.

John F. Egan, State Treasurer, and Lon Parker returned from the Bay yesterday where they went to see the President.

The following is the Roll of Honor in Miss Wasson's class: Gertie Bird, Ada Meyers, Louisa Ferretti, Archie McCabe.

Don't forget to attend the May Day ball to be given by the W. R. C. in aid of the Monument Fund at Armory hall to-morrow night.

George Francis Train, who traveled around the world in 59 days, has started out again to try to perform the same feat in 55 days.

Henry Meyer, formerly of Carson, in company with several friends, all carpenters like himself built a house in San Francisco in seven hours.

There was no school in Prof. Howe's class yesterday afternoon on account of Mr. Howe visiting the Stewart Institute at Clear Creek.

Farmers say the late cold weather did not injure fruit trees. Ice formed but the air was dry and not even peach trees, which were in bloom were damaged.

In the APPEAL's report of the installation of the Y. L. I., the name of Miss Theresa Barnes should have appeared in place of Mrs. D. Hurley as one of the Trustees.

The case of Ah Sing whom Sheriff Botsford sued for pawnbroker's license, will come up in the Justice Court on Saturday at 10 o'clock. All witnesses are expected to be present.

Specimens of Death Valley ore when compared with samples taken from the Hawthorne district show that the latter contain finer gold. The formation is the same in both places.

Warren Nye, a grandson James W. Nye, the first Governor of Nevada Territory and Nevada State, accidentally shot himself in the groin at Washington a few days ago, and at latest accounts was lying at the point of death.

The editor of the evening paper says a hole was burned in a picture of Harrison in Cagwin & Note-ware's yesterday. A man who has been an exponent of Blaine as long as he has ought to know his portrait from Harrison's.

There are two interesting articles on Sarah Bernhardt in the Argonaut on May 4th. In one of them "Parisina" tells about the great French tragedienne's home life in Paris, and in the other "G. B." criticizes her performance in "Cleopatra."

The Harrison papers say that Blaine will shortly announce that he will never again be a candidate for President. With Blaine out of the field Harrison will have no opposition for the nomination unless McKinley is brought to the front by Foraker.

Germany's dead warrior, Count Von Moltke, is said by Archibald Forbes to have been under fire but twice, once at Koniggratz and once at Granlotte. The Emperor has ordered the army to go into mourning eight days as a mark of respect to his memory.

What Townsend Says.

The following are taken from the Homer Index:

Pack-mules begin to hunt up excuses for being lame, as they scent a hard Summer's work.

The pestiferous blow-fly has got his lightning incubator in prime working order, and the woodtick's gimlet is sharpened for the Summer campaign.

The mail-carrier's horses are still on snowshoes, and the speed of them is something less than that of a nigger funeral, but they get here all the same, after the lapse of time.

On Monday Dandy Travis came down from the mines in ten minutes, the quickest trip of the season. His snowshoe ran away with him and took fire from friction several times.

The man who goes to Bodie now must prepare himself with a life-preserver and snowshoes, besides a shovel. If he is a discreet person, after getting quite ready to go he will stay at home and wait until travel ceases to be torture.

"A graduated physician" wants to know if there is a field here for the exercise of his skill. Yes, there is field enough, but patients are scarce. Occasionally the boys perforate each other in a friendly manner, when we patch them up or plant them, whichever is handiest. We have not had a doctor here for eight years, but those who located in this camp during the boom times were pretty regularly graduated from mediocrity to utter worthlessness.

Innocuous snowslides are rolling from the walls of the canyon every day, and, as it were, turn up their toes in disgust at their inability to get to us. On Wednesday one from the face of Gilreast, started opposite the Index office, beginning with a wee bunch no bigger than your fist and rapidly spreading out like an inverted fan. In the bright sun it was a cataract of silver, a glittering glory, that would have made the fortune of a photographer could he have caught it on the fly.

Miss Sweeney's Reception.

Miss Mamie Sweeney, Grand President of the Y. L. I. of the Pacific Coast, was the recipient of a very pleasant reception at Odd Fellow's Hall, on Tuesday evening, tendered her by the young ladies of the Institute recently organized in this city. The monotony of the dancing was varied by a piano solo by Miss Nellie Sweeney of this city, who is considerable of an artist on that instrument, and a song by Miss Marie Ballard, who was in splendid voice, and was heartily encored.

The impromptu spread could not have been excelled had they taken double the time to prepare it. All who attended unite in saying that a more pleasant evening could not be wished for.

Two Girls From Reno.

Katie and Mamie Long, aged 16 and 18 years respectively, came to this city in January from Reno, Nev., for the purpose of securing positions as servants. They are both in the City Prison this afternoon booked for the Magdalen Asylum. They went to 214 1/2 Sixth street on their arrival and were induced to enter upon an immoral life. Their father, who is assistant baggage master at Reno, has been notified of their condition, and should he desire to take them home the charge against them will be dismissed.—Report.

Gov. Penoyer of Oregon says of the recently published interview with him: "While I insist, with all deference to the opinion of others, that my proper place to receive the President is at the State Capitol and not at the State line, where he will be met by a Legislative Committee, yet I concede that if I had authorized the interview as published, I would be liable to censure, which, under the true state of facts, is unmerited."

Joe Ellis, alias Keilling, was jailed yesterday for vagrancy. It seems that he struck Dan Childs, who had him arrested. After being released on $20 bail he again assaulted Childs, who retaliated with a cane. Ellis then attempted to secure Childs' arrest, when he was juggled as stated.
